

How to get to Loyola College:

Address:

Colegio Mayor Loyola
Callejón de Lebrija 3
18011 Granada

Access is easier when taking Paseo de Cartuja first and then turn into c/ Professor Clavera (on this street there is an entrance to the College for both cars and pedestrians).

Directions from Granada:

Granada airport is 12 km from the city center. Upon arrival, take a taxi from the airport (cost about 20-25 euros). There are buses that will take you to the center of Granada (2-4€). In the city must get off at the "Gran Vía" and change to bus number 8 (1,20€) and get off at "Paseo de Cartuja 1". From there, you have to walk up to the College (Paseo de Cartuja, then turn right into c/ Professor Clavera, walk a few hundred meters, on the right hand will be the gate to enter the college)

Alternatively take a taxi from downtown (7-8€); more expensive than the bus, but it spares you to walk up to the College with luggage.

Directions from Malaga:

Malaga is the nearest international airport to Granada with many incoming flights. Upon arrival, you must first take a taxi or bus from the airport to the bus station in Malaga.

The route from the airport (line 19) goes to the city center of Malaga and it takes about 20 minutes. At the main bus terminal you may then find bus to Granada. More details on <http://www.estabus.emtsam.es>.

Buses from Malaga airport to cost 1,15€ and leave every 30 minutes from 07.25 to 23.59. You can find bus stops at Terminal 1 (arrivals) and Terminal 2 (departures).

There are buses every hour to Granada from 07am till 9pm (no bus at 8pm). The ticket costs around 9€ and the journey to Granada will take about 90 minutes.

From the bus station in Granada to the College, I would advise taking a taxi (5-7€). To use the bus is complicated, because you have to take several buses.

If you still want to take the bus: At the entrance to the bus station there are bus stops. You may take either bus 3 or 33. Get off on "Gran Vía" and change to bus nr.8.
